

ELEPHANT

Acrylic on paper, 28 x 38cm

Becky Brown, I Want To Squeeze You, 2017

Today's image of the day is all about romance—and it's suitably psychedelic, coming from the newly opened Freight + Volume show in New York which takes its title from the 1960s Summer of Love. I Want To Squeeze You fits its title phrase into the canvas again and again, literally squeezing into any space available, and calling to mind the obsessive, physical nature of romantic love. The show draws on a diverse range of 100 artists who explore love and relationships.